REGULAR ANNOUNCES MONTHLY CANDIDACY MEETING FOR LT.-GOV.

Of O. C. D. Held Monday Afternoon—Meeting of Air Raid Wardens
Held Monday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the advisory board of the office of the civilian defense council was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Geo. R. Rea, director, presiding.

Mr. Frank Cassidy announced that the entire membership of the American Legion numbering 52 would like to take the instructions for volunteer firemen.

Mrs. Eunice Casanova, chairman of the war-aid program reported that their files had been set up and everything is in readiness to operate.

Mrs. Sara Power assistant director OCD said that 700 cards were sent out notifying volunteers of meetings; 117 pounds of silk and Nylon discarded hose had been shipped from the office; handled the checking of ceiling prices in 16 grocery stores for the OPA; assisted in filling out cards for new ration books and questionnaires.

There was present at the meeting O. D. Ashworth, assistant State director Civilian Defense who talked to the group. He said that Bay St. Louis is designated as a prime target area and should have the two pieces of fire fighting equipment offered by the National office of civilian defense—an auxiliary or booster pump and a trailer pump. He said he could promise that an instructor will be sent here if a sufficient number will enroll as auxiliary firemen and take the course. He said that the Bay St. Louis office is ranked as one of the three highest in the state and thought that they should qualify for the equipment.

E. S. Drake, chief auxiliary fireman, pledged that his firemen would take the instruction and Marcel Teliard pledged for the active firemen. In the unavoidable absence of Mayor Elaise, Mr. Schilling was deputized to represent him and pledged the support of the city.

Wayne Allison, chief sanitary inspector, gave the high points of what he had learned at the 3-day chemical warfare school he attended in New Orleans.

Dr. Florence Jennings, director extended school service for Bay St. Louis reported on the nursery school, the recreation school and the two centers to be set up for the Negro children. Dr. Jennings explained that these schools drew a part of their financial support from the Federal Fund provided by the Lanham fund the remainder to be supplied by local contributions.

On Monday night there was a meeting of air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police and messengers with approximately 60 in attendance. A. E. Cox, chief air raid warden presided at the meeting and the blackout and new signals came up for discussion. Charles W. Brown, field representative Civilian Defense 8th regional district, Atlanta, made a short talk to the group and commended them highly on their set up and said the office rated "tops" in his region.

Injured in Auto Accident

Mrs. H. Grady Perkins received severe cuts of the face when the car in which she was riding in New Orleans on Friday of last week was struck by a car bearing a California license.

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, their two children Temple and Grady and her sister Mrs. E. J. Lacoste and her young son E. J. Lacoste III had gone to New Orleans for the day and Mr. Perkins was driving through Rampart street when the other car came out a side street.

The three children and Mrs. Lacoste were thrown from the seat to the floor of the car but sustained only bruises but Mrs. Perkins was thrown forward from the front seat and suffered a severe cut on the face near her mouth which necessitated several stitches being taken. Mr. Perkins suffered only slight bruises.

Last reports are that Mrs. Perkins is doing nicely and the cut is healing without infection.

The occupants of the car feel that they are indeed fortunate that they were not more seriously hurt. It was said that the car is greatly damaged. Mr. Perkins who was driving had the right of way it was said and that evidently the driver of the other car was unfamiliar with the signal lights or was not aware that he was driving into a clear street.

Former Senator John Lumpkin Issues Statement

Former Senator John Lumpkin of Lumberton has authorized the Sea Coast Echo to announce his candidacy for lieutenant-governor of Mississippi in the approaching August Democratic primaries.

Well-known throughout the state by reason of his years of legislative experience. Mr. Lumpkin in sending his announcement to the Sea Coast Echo called attention to the fact that he was a native of Hancock County, having been born in this county in that portion that was later made a part of Pearl River county and has many friends and relatives in this county.

In listing some of his achievements which he feels commends him to the electorate of the state for the lieutenant-governorship, Mr. Lumpkin pointed out that he was a joint author of the Old Age Pension Law and was a joint author of the state wide stock law giving the people the right to vote themselves out from under the law if they so desire.

Continuing he stated "I secured the first appropriation for the charity ward in the hospital at Bay St. Louis."

"I was the author of the bill that increased appropriations for public schools $1,000,000 in 1935. I was the author of the bill that exempts all live stock from taxation. I am the originator of the constitutional amendment giving everyone the right to vote by the payment of poll tax only."

I am author of the bill that fenced the Louisiana line to protect Mississippi against reinfection from the Texas Fever cattle tick.

"I made the fight in 1932-34 with Senator Oscar Bond of Wiggins and Senator Earl Richardson of Philadelphia that kept the salaries of local officers from being reduced."

Asserting that he was for elective and not appointive local officers, Senator Lumpkin went on to say that he was against all types of regulations and restrictions that restricts the liberty of men and believes in letting the people alone as much as possible.

He advocates a severance tax on oil being produced in Mississippi at the same rate as that being paid in Louisiana and estimated that the state of Mississippi is now losing over $6,000 a day or over $2,000,000 a year by its failure to properly tax this oil production.

Continuing he stated "If I am elected I will give the good people of my native county the very best service that I can. I know the people and believe I know what they want and need and am confident I can serve them effectively."

July 2 Deadline To Register For August Primaries

Guests at the home of Mrs. Octave Favard this past week were: Mr. L. F. King, Mr. and Mrs. Hammett, Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Mobile, Ala.; Mrs. Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Beaumont, Texas; Mr. C. P. McCurdy of Hammond, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kent, Mrs. C. W. Lyons of Tampa, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bubbs, Lt. and Mrs. R. L. Bridgen, Sgt. and Mrs. Chas. Parker of New Orleans; Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Herder of St. Petersburg, Florida; and Mr. Jos. T. Parillo, Jr. of Des Moines, Ia.

FUNERAL MONDAY FOR OSMUND CARL OLSON

The body of Osmund Carl Olson who died suddenly at Hines, Oregon, on Tuesday, June 22 reached here Monday at 10:30 a. m., and the funeral was held at 4 p. m. from the Fahey Funeral Home with the rites of the Catholic Church and the Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch officiating. Interment was in Cedar Rest Cemetery. Pallbearers were John Leonard of New Orleans; Lt.-Commander J. B. Goldman, W. L. Bourgeois, L. M. Gex, L. H. McCormick, H. L. Kergosien.

Mr. Olson was a native of Oslo, Norway and a citizen of the United States for forty years. He had been connected with the Hines Lumber Company for thirty years part of which time the company was operating a plant in Hancock county. His father and mother both preceded him to the grave and he had no close relatives.

Mr. Olson spent a month with his family here a short time ago and two weeks before his death he spent the week-end with his son at San Diego. His family had had letters from him the day before the announcement of his death reached here and there was nothing in the letters to indicate that he was not well. It was said that he was in the room and it appears that he had risen at his usual hour and began to dress and then lay across the bed because when discovered he was partly clad. The doctor said it was evident that it was a heart attack.

He loved the great open spaces and the short time that he made his home here he loved gardening and took great pride in his garden. He had a number of friends here who deeply regret his passing. The great profusion of beautiful floral offerings testified to the esteem in which he was held by those who knew him best.

He leaves his wife the former Miss Josie Boardman, two daughters Mrs. Frank VanDevender and Miss Lillian Olson all of Bay St. Louis and a son William Boardman Olson, United States Navy and stationed on the West coast. He was granted a furlough and reached here two days before the funeral.

To these his family the Echo joins their many friends in offering deepest sympathy in their loss and asking for their strength to go forward without his counsel.

Dr. Jennings Guest Speaker at Rotary Club Meeting

Something of the work being done in extended school services throughout the country as evidenced thru the nursery schools that enable working mothers to greatly aid in the war effort and replace men who are being called into the armed services was told by Dr. Florence Jennings, guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Jennings, local supervisor for the extended school services here pointed out that the maintenance of the nursery schools was essential and had been made possible by federal appropriation and local contributions.

They are proving their worth to such an extent that it is deemed probable they will be carried forward in some communities after the war, she stated.

YOUNG PEOPLE CONFIRMED

SOUTHERN FARM MARKET SUMMARY

Most southern fruits and vegetables maintained steady to firm prices during the last week of June, with peak movement of many items past, according to the Food Distribution Administration. Light supplies of peaches were slightly weaker as the season advanced. First carlot potato shipments from Tennessee were reported; movement increased from Virginia, and was quite heavy in North Carolina. Tennessee and No. Carolina tomatoes began to move in carlot quantities to supplement supplies still being shipped from other Southern States. Light cucumber loadings brought relatively high prices for good quality offerings out of Georgia, Louisiana, the Carolinas and Tennessee. Watermelons moved in fairly heavy volume from Florida and Georgia, with light shipments reported from Alabama and South Carolina.

Cattle market activity was restricted by scarcity of offerings. Nominal prices were steady to 25c lower following last week's sharp drop. In the southeastern area, calf receipts normally increased during June, but have been practically nil so far this year. Scarcity of local hogs held prices in Georgia, Florida, and Alabama at a top of $14.00. Other southern markets held steady after regaining a part of previous losses early in the week. Closing tops were Nashville $13.85; Louisville $13.90; Richmond $13.50; North Carolina and Virginia cash buying stations $13.35-$13.50. Spring lambs were barely steady to weak on increased arrivals. Closing tops were: Nashville $15.00; Louisville $15.25; Virginia auctions $15.00, per hundred-weight.

Egg prices continued firm on light receipts. Large White Grade "A" brought 38-41c a dozen at the principal markets in States along the Atlantic seaboard. Moderate to light live poultry receipts were insufficient for the demand; and prices held steady, generally at ceiling levels. Hens were more plentiful than other classes and brought in Atlanta 25 1/2c, Raleigh 20-25c; Richmond 24-25c; Jacksonville 27c a pound.

WFS requisitioned corn stocks in 96 midwestern terminal elevators in an effort to break the distribution jam which has contributed to the feed shortage. No corn offerings had been reported at southern markets thru regular commercial channels in nearly two months. Offerings of southern oats and alfalfa are light. Some Canadian oats are still being offered.

Spot cotton markets were less active, but price fluctuations were narrow. October New York futures closed on June 26 at 20.00c up 13 points for the week.

RED CROSS VACATION

Vacation in wartime presents many problems. Travel restrictions, crowded trains and buses, and the closing down of summer resorts for the duration will cause many to remain at home this year. What to do with your free time?

The Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross can solve your problem. It offers many opportunities for occupying your time pleasantly and profitably, and you will have the satisfaction of serving your country in the most crucial period of its history.

Your Red Cross chapter has a varied program to appeal to different tastes and talents. There is first aid, for example. The training will not only be valuable in an emergency, such as a bombing, but serve you the rest of your life. You can learn how to prepare inexpensive and nutritious meals, and make the most of your ration books. This is done through Nutrition Classes, taught by Authorized Red Cross instructors. Red Cross Home Nursing classes will be held. Knowing that doctors and nurses must be released in ever-increasing numbers to take care of the men who are fighting for our safety and security, the Red Cross has set itself the task of providing an opportunity for at least one person in every home to take the course in Red Cross Home Nursing. Many volunteers are needed in the Production Room for sewing and knitting. Large quotas of Surgical Dressings are still unmade at the Surgical Dressings Room.

There is hardly a home in Hancock County that does not have a relative or a friend in the army or navy. As a Red Cross volunteer, you fulfill your obligation to the men who are risking their all in the fight for freedom.

Why not drop in on one of the Red Cross Rooms, located in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Main Street, Masonic Building, Main Street, or the Red Cross Office, Court House, and talk it over with one of the chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dornier attended the family re-union of the Dornier family in East Hampton, L. I., recently and are still in the East and will visit in New York and Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Dornier is a former Miss Elaine Mogabgab of this city.

Tells of Experiences at Sea

From a recent issue of the Times-Picayune we have the following: The aircraft carriers Hornet and Enterprise seemed almost human to Russell R. Kirst, radioman third class of New Orleans after a year's service on a United States Navy destroyer which escorted both of these vessels as a part of the task force.

The 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kirst, 8509 Mark street, New Orleans, was here Tuesday on his first furlough since he joined the Navy in October 1940.

The Enterprise—there's a ship for you, you," he said, telling how being hit by three bombs "she went right on after the Japs." In this same battle, Kirst's destroyer sank a Jap submarine, he said.

Recalling the preparation for the Tokyo raid by Mitchell bombers which took off from the carrier Hornet, Kirst, whose destroyer was in her task force said "the worst part of that was when the carrier was sunk in the Battle of the Solomons."

"When you go through battles with those hips, I guess they become almost human," said the young veteran of five naval battles, who wears decorations for service in the European War theater, a year's service before Pearl Harbor, participation in the American Defense campaign and service in the Asiatic Pacific theater.

Russell Kirst is a nephew of Mrs. Fred Banderet of this city being the son of her youngest brother. The Kirst family once made their home here and Raymond Kirst was a student at Bay High as were other children of the family.

E. R. Jobe, secretary of the State High School Accrediting Commission from the office of the State Department of Education at Jackson was a Coast visitor Wednesday conferring with various school officials in Hancock and Harrison counties.

Camp and Hospital Control

Throughout the country, camp and hospital councils of the American Red Cross have been established to provide supplementary equipment supplies and service for men and women at Army posts and Naval stations within the United States.

The Army and Navy are responsible for welfare and recreation for able-bodied men and women, and for the medical care of patients and convalescents in military and naval hospitals and assisting with welfare services for the able-bodied and for social service and recreation for patients and convalescents. And in addition commanding officers may request the Red Cross and other organizations to provide service, equipment and supplies that may be needed. The function of the camp and hospital councils is to assist in meeting this responsibility through the utilization of existing local resources.

The camp and hospital council program welcomes the volunteer aid of organizations and individuals in communities adjacent to Army camps and Naval stations. Their efforts are channeled through the council, which renders aid directly to the armed forces through the Red Cross field director. The program is under Red Cross sponsorship.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hancock County branch of the Gulfport Camp and Hospital Council was held Monday afternoon, June 28, 1943 at the Courthouse with Harold Weston, chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Leo Seal announced the purchase of 6 Venetian blinds which were given to the recreation room at Gulfport Field. Several subscriptions to current magazines have also been given by individuals and a sum collected in donations to pay toward the 50 convalescent robes being made by the local Production Room for convalescent soldiers at Gulfport Field Hospital. Any other donations of any sum will be greatly welcomed to help defray the cost of the robes.

A request for 50 novels, 20 Arithmetics from the 5th grade through the 7th and two dictionaries was made. Also, games of any sort are wanted. Anyone having any books or games they wish to contribute may contact Mrs. J. B. Goldman, phone 245 or Miss Kathleen Renshaw, phone 141 and they will be glad to call for them.

Mrs. Louise Maunus, executive chairman urged that the needs of the council be brought more forcefully before the various organizations in town. And a request that articles not be in too dilapidated condition was made. The council still has needs of most any kind of chairs, card tables, lamps, fans, cards, book stands, pianos, athletic equipment. Any thing that could be used by the men in their recreation rooms.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman was unanimously elected secretary and treasurer of the Hancock County branch of the council, to replace Mrs. Geo. Horton, who resigned.

The next meeting of the entire council will be held at Gulfport Field the third Wednesday in July at ten P. M. All organizations are cordially invited and urged to send a representative to the meeting to learn further of this most vitally important service to the armed forces.

To Observe July 5

July 4th, Independence Day, is a legal holiday in Mississippi, but this year the Fourth comes on Sunday. So in order to avoid any complications and yet permit the people of the state to honor Independence Day as a holiday Gov. Johnson has by proclamation designated July Fifth as the holiday in the place of the Fourth, thus due notice has been given to observe the Fifth as a holiday.

Committee Called

Chairman Herbert Holmes of the State Democratic Executive Committee has issued a call for the committee to meet at the Edwards Hotel in Jackson on July 5th to make up the ballot for the August third Primary, and to transact such other business as may be presented to the committee. Chairman Holmes states in his call for the meeting that all candidates who wish to run in the August primaries must be duly announced and his ticket fee paid before midnight of July 3rd. At the meeting on July 5 all candidates without opposition coming under the jurisdiction of the State Committee will be declared nominated. All persons eligible to register must register not later than July 22nd in order to vote in the August primaries.

Mississippi and Oil

A sub-committee of congressmen from the House Naval Affairs Committee spent several days in Mississippi investigating the potential crude oil supply in this state. They completed their investigation and left the state on Wednesday of last week. The purpose of the committee, primarily was to find out, if possible, if Tinsley and other fields in Mississippi could support a pipeline from Mississippi to the Eastern Seaboard.

Oil and Gas Supervisor, H. M. Morse, testified before the committee that the Tinsley field has in reserve anywhere from 150 to 250 million barrels of crude oil. And other fields are developing in the state, which may add other millions to the state's reserve. Mr. Morse thinks that if the price of crude oil in the state is advanced around fifty cents per barrel it will stimulate research and drilling and more development may be the result.

Fiscal Year Ended June 30

The fiscal year of the state ends on Wednesday of this week, June 30th. The biennium to be covered in the reports required of all state officers, institutions, boards and bureaus accountable to the state and known as the "biennial reports" is from July 1st, 1941 to June 30th, 1943. These reports are to be prepared and printed in time for the Legislature, which will convene on January 4th. Members of the House and Senate like to have these reports on the very first day of the session, and if they are not ready there is more or less confusion. The Secretary of State under the law looks after the printing of these reports and if the copy is furnished on time the printing will be done on time.

Governor's Mansion

An inquiry has been received by Walker Wood, Secretary of State, from an eastern state wanting information on the Governor's Mansion in Mississippi—when it was built, its cost, up-keep, general appearance, and other questions. Minds of our own people might be refreshed by a brief mention along this line. For instance, the Mansion was several years under construction, but was finished about 1842 and Gov. Tucker, inaugurated January 10, 1842, was the first Governor to occupy the Mansion. During this full century it has been constantly occupied as the official home of Mississippi's Chief Executive. Except for the stands today almost exactly as it appeared in 1842, but recently it has been painted white for the first time. It is a tradition if not a historical fact, that Mississippi was the first state in the United States to provide an official home for its Governor. The Mansion was one of the very few buildings to escape the torch

Library Notes

The Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library appreciates the gift of books from Mrs. E. J. Lacoste which are being accessioned and put on the shelves for circulation.

The library appreciates this gift from Mrs. Lacoste and the books are a nice addition to our shelves. The regular monthly book review was dispensed with for the month of June owing to the extreme heat and the crowded schedule of every one. However, we hope to have something to offer our friends and patrons for the month of July.

The library is glad to have the members of the armed forces coming into the library to write letters, read and rest and we hope that more of them will take advantage of this privilege offered by the library. We are also glad to enroll as readers the families of our men in uniform for in that way we feel we are helping the cause. We are extending a welcome to all new-comers to make the library theirs.

Carrier Pigeon Has Home

A very pretty Carrier Pigeon took up its abode at the New Capitol several days ago. It was caught and found to have on one foot a metal band bearing certain letters and figures and on the other foot a bandage in which the message to be delivered had been concealed. The bird seemed lost and bewildered. When the soldiers from the Army Signal Corps, Jackson Air Base, found out about it they came and got it and shipped it away whence it came.

Making Around

The Governors in conference at Columbus, Ohio last week, went on record as condemning strikes which interfere in any way with war work. Mississippi Druggists in annual session in Jackson last week elected Perry Hemphill president for the ensuing year and selected Jackson as the meeting place for the 1944 convention. Capt. Rickenbacker, making a tour of world battlefields was in Moscow last week. Rickenbacker does things with airplanes. War workers are again appealing to the country to save the tin cans. A report from Washington says crop prospects have materially improved in the past few days. James K. Vandenberg, III, grandson of the late Senator, escaped death in North Africa. Reports indicate that Mississippi crops are above the average over the country.

Reported Missing in Action In Pacific

News has been received here that Gant Boswell, United States Naval Air Corps, is reported missing in the Pacific.

Lt. Boswell is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boswell of New Orleans but who for many years were residents of Bay St. Louis, where their children attended the Central School.

Lt. Boswell, 21 years of age, was a pilot in the naval air arm and had been in the service for two years, nine months of which were spent in the Pacific. When he entered the navy he was a student at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. Less than a week following the report that young Boswell was missing, Laurie Lee Boswell the youngest of the Boswell's sons was sworn into the army. The 19 year old youth was sworn in in ceremonies at the induction center in New Orleans and his eldest brother Second Lieutenant Gordon Boswell, Jr., 26, of the anti-aircraft artillery, who was at home on an emergency furlough was present at the ceremony.

Immediately following the induction young Boswell received a promotion to corporal. He will later go to officers candidate school at Fort Benning, Georgia. # DENNIS MURPHREE

Will Be Elected
GOVERNOR
Because:

The people recognize that his 25 years of faithful public service, three times as Legislator and three times as Lieutenant Governor, make Murphree the best qualified man in the race for Governor.

...Murphree's platform and speeches appeal to the people as being the soundest, most sincere, progressive and statesmanlike.

Murphree's record for getting things done gives assurance that the far-reaching and constructive things he advocates will be accomplished.

The people realize that Murphree will give them the cautious, alert and courageous leadership that the war and post-war periods demand. He will cooperate with President Roosevelt, the Commander-in-Chief, with Congress and all the agencies of the Federal and State governments.

Murphree knows how, and will work in harmony with the Legislature, and with other State Officials. He will seek the counsel of Farm and Business leaders.

Murphree will be a Democratic Governor of a Democratic people. His inborn ideas, ideals and courage will enable him to lead Mississippi through perilous days, come what may. Murphree can be depended upon to lead a delegation of genuine Mississippi Democrats to the National Convention in 1944.

During his three terms as Lieutenant Governor, Murphree loyally supported each of the three Governors in all measures in the interests of the people. When he saw that the people's rights were about to be abused, he did not hesitate to put up a fight.

Murphree has made good. He has proved that his thinking is sound; that he is big of heart, practical in political strategy, courageous in action and in every way qualified to be Governor.

Murphree justly deserves promotion and an appreciative people will promote him to the Governorship in August.

Congressional Sidelights

by Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

Anti-Strike Legislation

Democracy is the will of the people in Government. The world, torn with the fight between dictatorship and democracy, had a fine exhibition of the practical operation of a democracy this past week in this country. For more than a year the people of the United States have been dissatisfied and fed up with the conduct of labor leaders in interfering with our production of arms, guns, ships, etc. Some members of Congress reflected the will of the people, and on at least two occasions the House passed bills seeking to stop these strikes in war production. But each time the Administration put the pressure on the Senate and succeeded in stopping the legislation. Angry constituents wrote their Congressmen, who in many instances were doing everything within their power to bring about such legislation, criticizing Congress for not taking action. It was not until recently that the country began to realize that it was Administration opposition and not Congressional opposition that stopped the enactment of such legislation. In fact, it was not until after both Houses had passed the Smith-Connally Bill and the President had refused to sign it that many people realized the real situation.

The President's veto was, therefore, not unexpected by official Washington. That it was over-ruled by the necessary two-thirds vote was somewhat surprising, especially in the House. The Senate over-ruled the President within an hour's time after receiving the veto message by a vote of 56 to 25. The House promptly followed by a vote of 244 to 108. Seldom have we seen a more dramatic and tense situation exist in the House than existed on this occasion. As the floor manager for the Bill, when it originally passed the House, we were in on the strategy of getting the veto over-ruled in the House. It was purely a question of when to vote. The Leadership, always regarded as the right arm of the Administration, was for postponing the vote until this week, which would give many of the city members from the East who vote with Labor and the Administration an opportunity to get back to Washington. But the decision was forced for an immediate vote. The result was that the House over-ruled the Presidential veto by a margin of nine votes. There were more than this number of absentees who it is known would have voted to sustain the President had they been present. And thus the will of the people was written into law.

The action of the Congress in over-riding the President has a number of important implications. It is nothing new for Congress to over-ride the President's veto, but it is something new when the Congress over-rides the President on an important matter in the midst of a war. We are informed that this is the first time in the history of the country that such action has been taken. This action reflects what we have many times pointed out, namely: that Labor has been suffering from bad leadership. Both the CIO and the AFOFL leadership served notice on the Congress that they would defeat any Member who voted for this legislation. John L. Lewis had openly defied the President and the country. These Labor leaders, grown opulent with power, were threatening to rule or ruin. But the Congress would not be brow-beaten. This action thoroughly demonstrates the will of the people is still the governing power in a democratic form of government.

"AIR FORCE" AT A. & G. THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY

Outstanding War Drama of Flying Fortress, the "Mary Ann"

"Air Force," produced by Hal B. Wallis; a Howard Hawks production; directed by Howard Hawks; screen play by Dudley Nichols; presented by Warner Bros. at the A. & G. Theatre this Sunday and Monday.

Made with the cooperation of the United States Air Corps, "Air Force," is one of the most exciting dramas of heroism that the screen has yet given us.

For plot, "Air Force" has the simplest, yet perhaps the most dramatic story ever told; the daily log of a Boeing Flying Fortress as it makes its way across the troubled waters of the Pacific Ocean.

Directed by Howard Hawks, whose recent "Sergeant York" has made cinema history, "Air Force," has a large cast featuring John Garfield, Gig Young, Harry Carey, Geo. Tobias, Arthur Kennedy, James Brown and John Ridgely. The story begins when "Mary Ann" and its crew of nine take off on a peace-time mission to Honolulu just before December 7. Unarmed and unaware of its fate, it soon makes the bitter discovery of the attack upon Pearl Harbor. The bomber goes from Maui where it is attacked from ambush to Hickman Field, in spite of warnings; then heads for Manila by way of Wake Island. After a perilous flight through a bank of storm clouds, it makes a hazardous landing at Clark Field, only to learn that it is being evacuated. They hurriedly load with bombs, but after only three have been loaded, sirens warn of enemy attack, and they quickly take off to find the invasion fleet, accounting for one cruiser and two transports with their bombs.

Although their Captain is killed and another member of the crew shot by Jap gunners, the brave ship is brought down safely, patched up with loving care and feverish haste, and taken up again to play an active part in the Battle of the Coral Sea.

"Air Force," perfectly performed, is indeed a tribute to the heroic boys who "keep 'em flying." All the heroism witnessed and recorded by our boys fighting in South Pacific waters from that fateful December 7, is captured by the cameras. "Air Force" is the real stuff. High ranking officers sat in on the preparation of the script, the screen play of which was written by Dudley Nichols, with the aid of Howard Hawks, whose splendid direction make this thrilling saga possible.

Against the resounding background of the war in the air Hawks plays the men and machines assigned for this purpose, with consummate skill and ease. He is working in a medium he knows having directed such air pictures as "The Dawn Patrol," "Only Angels Have Wings" and "Ceiling Zero."

AMERICANS ARE STILL THE BEST NOURISHED PEOPLE ON EARTH... AND THERE'S A REASON.

Our food may be stretched out these days to share with the peoples of the United Nations, but thanks to new scientific developments in animal feeding, our feathered and four-legged armies are being greatly improved in quality and propagation.

To tiny yeast cells goes much of the credit, because brewer's yeast is the source of the vitamins used to fortify feed mixtures.

Mississippi Farmers Know The Truth

IM VOTING FOR MIKE CONNER BECAUSE HE EXEMPTED THE FARMERS CATTLE, HORSES, MULES, PLOWS, EQUIPMENT, AND HOUSEHOLD GOODS FROM ALL TAXES WHEN HE WAS GOVERNOR FROM 1932 TO 1936

SURE MIKE DID AND WHEN HE IS ELECTED GOVERNOR THIS TIME HE'LL GIVE US A REAL MARKETING PROGRAM SO THAT WE CAN GET TOP PRICES FOR OUR PRODUCTS.

MIKE CONNER—Governor from 1932 to 1936—had the courage to fight for justice and relief for the farmer. The Conner Administration reduced the state tax on farms and farm homes from 8 to 4 mills; exempted all livestock, farming tools and household goods from ALL taxation; started homestead tax exemption; repealed the road tax which required payment of $5 or five days' work on the public road; passed Mississippi's first old age assistance program; and passed the first state laws making electric power available on farms and in rural communities.

MIKE CONNER has operated his own farm for 20 years. He knows the farmers' problems. When Mike Conner becomes Governor of Mississippi in January, 1944, he will call together representative farmers, dairymen and stockmen and they will work out a practical marketing program that will make agriculture a sound business and bring prosperity to all Mississippians.

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY

'KEEPER OF THE FLAME'

Matinee Sunday at 3:30—
Monday at 5 P. M.

Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn, who formed one of the year's brightest star teams in "Woman of the Year," are reunited in another dramatic and romantically exciting newspaper story in Metro Goldwyn-Mayer's "Keeper of the Flame," adaptation of the I. A. R. Wylie novel, to play at Ortie Theatre, Sunday and Monday.

Tracy plays Steve O'Malley, noted war correspondent and newsmen, who is assigned to write the life of a great patriotic leader recently killed in an accident. Tracing down events in the man's life he meets and falls in love with his young widow, played by Miss Hepburn. Circumstances point to murder, and the newspaperman comes to suspect the widow of complicity in a plot to kill her husband, which precipitates a series of tensely dramatic situations until the real facts disclose that she was attempting to protect his memory, and that he was involved in an unpatriotic, dictatorial plot.

Dramatic Climax
Tracy's portrayal is grippingly dramatic, and Miss Hepburn rises to emotional heights in the dramatic climax in a burning arsenal. Richard Whorf, newcomer from the Broadway stage, is compelling as the jealous secretary, and Margaret Wycherly, veteran stage star, gives a gripping performance as the demoted mother of the dead man. George Cukor directed with deft skill and great attention to delicate human interest moments in the story.

Important Announcement

GOVERNMENT LIFTS RESTRICTIONS ON RE-ROOFING AND RE-SIDING WITH ASBESTOS SHINGLES

Special Ruling Is Made to Meet Critical War Program *

MANY home owners have been postponing re-roofing and re-siding to their homes because of their fear that only temporary materials would be available. Many others have obtained the impression that to have such work done would be contrary to the interest of winning the war.

If your home needs re-roofing, if the sidewalks need painting or repair, a special W. P. B. ruling just issued removes the restrictions on the use of asbestos shingles for this purpose. There is no longer any reason for you to postpone having this work done.

Pre-War Quality — Pre-War Prices

Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles are manufactured to the same fireproof, durable quality standards as before the war. They are available at pre-war prices, too.

If your home needs painting or repair, we recommend J-M Asbestos Siding Shingles. They need no preservative treatment—are fireproof—permanent as stone—and will completely transform the appearance of your home. If you need a new roof, we recommend J-M Asbestos Roofing Shingles. They have the same desirable maintenance-free qualities.

Protect your home for today and for the future. We will be glad to show you samples of the new styles and new textures of these colorful shingles.

Long asbestos spinning fibre is an essential material in many war products. In mining asbestos, for every ton of long asbestos fibre, many tons of shorter fibre must be produced. This shorter fibre must be utilized, and its principal use is in the manufacture of asbestos shingles. Restrictions were therefore lifted to increase the use of asbestos shingles and thereby insure an adequate supply of long asbestos fibre vitally needed for war.

Getting off the bus Friday I ran smack into Bill Smith. Hadn't seen him since that other War—now we've both got sons in this one. We had plenty to talk about.

Bill and I agreed our boys are better off than we were. They're better taken care of, every way, Recreation, especially.

When we had a pass, there wasn't much to do. But some bootlegger was usually there with a bottle, and Bill and I got into a little trouble several times together.

This War's different. Right in his own canteen, a man can get a moderate glass of beer and stay out of the bootlegger's clutches. Better for 'em, every way. The army knows that beer's a morale-builder.

If some of these politicians weren't so afraid of losing a vote, they could help the community a lot by driving the bootleggers out.

I don't think the boys in this "best behaved army" of ours have much truck with the "eggheads." Moderate beer is good enough for most of 'em, just like anybody else.

WITH THE FISHERMEN AND OTHER SPORTS

By KANCHU KETCHUM

THE low tides of the past week have been ideal for fresh water fishing, as well as for soft shell crabbing and floundering. The waters of inland streams have been extremely clear. Sunday's rain effected the water in small streams somewhat, but not enough to spoil fishing.

Local fly fishermen report several new baits which have been effective, but most of them still stick to the old popping bugs and cripple minnow for casting.

For best results with the fly rod your line must float and the bug you use ride high upon the water. Action of a bait regardless of color gets best results. For the big ones stay as far as possible from the bank, keep your line taut at all times. Don't allow any slack when landing a fish and they won't be able to shake the bug out of their mouth. Don't blame the bait when the big ones get away. Be sure that the hook on the bug you are using has sufficient space between the hook point and the head of the bait.

Mr. Joe DiBenedetto landed his largest green trout last Friday afternoon. It weighed 2 3/4 pounds.

Oscar Bragg and Henry Osinach made a nice catch last week in Pearl River of green trout and perch.

Rains which usually help gardens and ruin fishing seem to have worked the other way—fishing has improved wonderfully the past few weeks and alter local showers fish have been striking furiously. No one particular kind but all varieties have been caught.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Babbitt and daughter of New Orleans caught a nice string of rat reds and speckles in front of Blaize's old wharf last Friday.

Large catches of speckles white trout and fresh water fish have been reported. Flounders are coming into their own and several nice catches of them have been made. Red fish both rats and large ones are biting good at this time.

Lawrence Peterson of English Lookout reported catching 62 lbs. of large speckles Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ferrell were fly fishing in Pearl River Saturday afternoon. Both are enthusiastic anglers.

Millard Toulme and Walter Favre report catching 62 pounds of flounders one night last week. Millard says they were really there.

Another new fly fisherman is Octave Delph. "Oc" has done well on his first two trips out.

Mr. W. S. Morrill says they are biting just everywhere. He always gets his share.

Bill Witter, Tom Monti and Vic Ford of New Orleans made two trips Sunday. In the morning they caught some fine speckles and in the afternoon some nice green trout.

Bob Genin, veteran, with the fly rod says they are getting bigger and bigger. He has had some fine trips the past few days and always gets some big ones. Bob still swears by "Bob's Killer" as the best bait for the "Grandpas."

Horace and Allen Vairin old time anglers at fishing were after them this week-end.

Among the young anglers is "J. D. Mollere. He is getting to be a real bait caster under the direction of his "Papa."

Speckles just now are biting at their best. If you don't know where to go—just go out in front of the Bay on any of the reefs. They are there.

Bernard and G. Y. Blaize, Jr., with Mr. Dinkelstein of New Orleans made a nice catch of speckles off Bayou Cadet one day last week.

"Johnny" Osinach has been paddling for his "Daddy" Henry and they have been getting some nice green trout and perch. They were up Pearl River Sunday "paddling their own canoe."

Monday and Tuesday of this week according to the fish calendar were supposed to be the best days for fishing this month—however, every day has been good.

Many trips are being planned for over the 4th of July week end. Be-

WEDDING CLAIMS LOCAL INTEREST

A small, quiet wedding but one which claimed much interest not only in Bay St. Louis but in other coast cities and New Orleans was that of Miss Marie Azile Campbell and Harry Cyril Glover, Jr., which was solemnized at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, on Baronne Street, New Orleans, on the morning of Tuesday, June 22 at a Nuptial Mass, the Very Rev. Louis J. Mulray, S. J., officiating, with only members of two immediate families present.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bruce Helm Campbell and the late Mr. Campbell of New Orleans and made a pretty picture in a lovely dress of azure blue worn with the Navy blue hat and Navy blue accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias. She wore as her only ornament a gold chain and antique cross and carried a lovely rosary the gift of the bridegroom.

She had as her only attendant Miss Marguerite Walsh and Mr. Glover had as his best man John Campora, both of New Orleans.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception for the bridal party and members of both families was held at one of the favorite centers in the Vieux Carre. The couple left immediately after for South Bend, Indiana, where the bridegroom, a chief petty officer in the United States Navy, is an instructor at Notre Dame University.

Mr. Glover is a graduate of St. Stanislaus and of Tulane University where he majored in Physical Education and was a four-letter man. It has been only a short time since the grand stands were filled with spectators yelling themselves hoarse for Glover, and now those same loyal friends are depending upon him to help win the war.

For going away the bride wore a costume of soft moss green which was very effectively worn with the British ten accessories. The wedding is the culmination of a romance of several years and the bride has visited here and has made many friends.
